SMERA has reaffirmed the long-term rating of 'SMERA BB' (read as SMERA double B) and the short-term rating of 'SMERA A4+' (read as SMERA A four plus) on the abovementioned bank facilities of Yash Plastomet Private Limited (Yash). Further, SMERA has withdrawn the rating of 'SMERA BB/Stable' on the Rs.0.75 crore bank facility since the outstanding dues have been cleared. The outlook is 'Stable'.

To arrive at the ratings, SMERA has consolidated the business and financial risk profiles of Yash and R. K. Metal & Plastic Private Limited (RKMPL), together referred to as the 'RK Group'. The consolidation is in view of the common ownership, similarity in the business models and strong operational linkages between the entities.

The ratings continue to derive support from the group's reputed clientele, stable profit margins and experienced management. However, the ratings are constrained by the working capital-intensive operations, moderate financial risk profile and intense market competition in the plastic packaging industry. The ratings also note that the group's profit margins are susceptible to fluctuations in forex rates.

Outlook: Stable

SMERA believes that Yash will maintain a stable business risk profile over the medium term. The company will continue to benefit from its established track record of operations and experienced management. The outlook may be revised to 'Positive' in case the company registers substantial increase in its scale of operations while achieving better net profit margins. Conversely, the outlook may be revised to 'Negative' if the company fails to achieve the projected scalability in revenues or if the financial risk profile deteriorates on account of higher-than-expected increase in debt-funded working capital requirements.
